	With a constant parade of city hall leaders bearing ridiculous, detrimental legislation, Proposition L is one of the most disturbing ballot measures to be put to voters. It's an embarrassing farce, full of flaws and faulty logic, pushed by a destructive socialist agenda to expropriate hard-earned money during these dire economic times.
	Let's be clear: This ballot measure is shockingly misleading. If it is approved by voters, nobody wins. This tax will not touch a CEO's pay. It will hurt businesses actually, leading to losses for our local workers already hurting during this pandemic.
	City hall leaders are on a rampage to confiscate business executives' earnings, to punish, scapegoat and equalize income. The signers listed in support of this measure will be sorely disappointed with nowhere the payoff expected. Prop L will, however, further push out the city's businesses and retail shop locations. Forget attracting business to the city in the future!
	Is there any precedent where a city government mandates the salary a company's executive management should make? The level of sheer audacity should scare every San Franciscan. This dictating to reduce a CEO's pay belongs in a totalitarian communist country, not America. You are not entitled to anyone's hard earned money.
	Again, if this measure is approved, who wins? Nobody. Therefore, join me and a broad coalition of appalled San Franciscans across the political spectrum sounding the alarm in opposing this ludicrous tax and vote a resounding NO on Prop L. Visit www.VoteSF.org for more information.
