Please vote NO on Proposition H.

Proposition H would eliminate the remaining odd-year election and have regular elections only in even-numbered years. I think the cost savings here are not worth it. I would actually restore the odd-year election that was already eliminated. Local elections are a fundamental part of our local government. There is higher voter turnout when candidates and measures are more controversial.

Proposition H would yield June and November elections in even-numbered years with 5 and 19 month gaps. Appointees to fill vacancies would serve longer before retention elections. Longer ballots and more ballot cards would be needed. Local ballot measures like this one would get lost at the end. I think fewer votes would be cast for some candidates and important measures. Voters just rejected changes to recall elections in June. We need more democracy, not less. There’s no good reason for this change.

Please vote NO on Proposition H. Thank you.

VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION H

If Prop H passes, the majority of voters in San Francisco will receive 6 ballot cards and be asked to select 20 candidates, plus an additional 20 for the 7 ranked-choice offices, a likely total of 40 candidates.

In addition, the past 6 presidential election ballots have averaged 13 California Initiatives and 17 local Propositions.

Expecting voters to make 70 thoughtful decisions on one ballot is unrealistic.
